Charles Darwin and the Future of JPL

Wednesday

September 24, 2014

4:30 - 5:30 PM

JPL Library

west end of Building 111
Room 104

Presented by Larry Dumas,
former JPL Deputy Director

As JPL looks toward the future, it may be helpful to consider how the Lab has evolved over the past 50 years. What were the environmental forces at work, and what were the attitudes and attributes that helped shape the Lab's response? Are there lessons here for the future? Come hear Larry's thoughts on these questions.
